HONOLULU, HAWAIIAN ISLANDS, OCTOBER 8, 1864.

THE PACIFIC Commercial Advertiser.

The Small Becoming Great.

A traveler through a dusty road

Strewed acorns on the lea,

And one took root and sprouted up, And grew into a tree;

Love sought its shades at evening tim To breathe its earlier vows,

And age was pleased, in heats of noon,

To back beneath its boughs; The dormouse loved its daugling twigs.

The birds sweet music bore ;

It stood a glory in its place, A blessing evermore.

A little spring had lost its way Among the grass and fern ,

A passing stranger scooped a well, Where weary men might turn.

He walled it in, and hung with care A ladle at the brink-

He thought not of the deed he did,

But judged that toll might drink. He passed again-and lo! the well, summers never dried,

Had cooled ten thousand parching tongues, And saved a life beside !

A dreamer dropped a random thought Twas old, and yet 'twas new-A simple fancy of the brain,

But strong in being true. It shone upon a genial mind,

And lo! its light because A lamp of life, a beacon ray,

A monitory flame. The thought was small -its issues great

A watch-fire on the hill. It sheds its radiance far adown,

And cheers the valley still.

A nameless man amid the crowd That thronged the daily mart. Let fall the word of hope and love,

Unstudied from the heart. A whisper on the tumuit thrown-

A transitory breath-It raised a brother from the dust,

It saved a soul from death. O germ ! O fount ! O word of love !

O thought at random cast ! Ye were but little at the first,

But mighty at the last !- Selected.

VARIETY.

"As diamond polishes diamond," says a German writer, "so man is formed by man." Truly. And we may add, as diamond cuts diamond, so man is seesed by man.

WHAT IS A MILLION?-If a person employed in counting money reckon a hundred pieces in a min-nie, and countine to work ten hours each day, he will take nearly seventeen days to reckon a million.

WEIGHT OF THE HUMAN BRAIN .- The brain of Cavier weighed 64\(\frac{1}{2}\)oz.; this was the largest on record.

That of Dr. Abercrombie weighed 63oz.; that of Dupaytren, a celebrated surgeon of France, 63\(\frac{1}{2}\)oz.; that of Dr. Chalmers, (skull very thick,) 53oz.; that of Lord Byron, 58oz.

A person lately inquired how often fresh meat could be supplied to a family residing for the summer season in a village not many miles from Brechin. "Weel, weel, sir," replied a woman apparently well acquainted with the capabilities of the district, "ye-maun gie yer orders aforehaud, as our butcher only kills half a beast at a time!"

THE CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD.—Harvey's theory of the circulation of the blood, or rather the cause of the circulation, is beginning to be disputed; for blushing, sudden paleness of the face, flushings and chilliness of the body, frequently occur without any modification or disturbance of the heart's action. The steady movement of the blood in the capil-laries, the circulation through the liver without the intervention of any propulsive force, the fact that after death the arteries are usually found empty, among other things, cannot be accounted for on the hypothesis that the heart is the sole mover of the blood. The new theory is, that the action is a chem-

AN "OFF-HAND" JOKE - A sturdy sergeant of one of the Massachusetts regiments being obliged to submit to the amputation of his hand, the surgeon offered to administer chloroform as usual; but the veteran refused, saying, "If the cutting was to be done on him. he wanted to see it,"—and laying his arm on the tuble, submitted to the operation without a sign of pain except a firmer setting of his teeth as the saw struck the marrow. The operator, as he finished, looked at his victim with admiration and

"You ought to have been a surgeon, my man." "I was the next thing to one afore I enlisted," said the hero.

"What was that?" asked the doctor. "A butcher !" responded the sergeant with a grim mile, which, despite the surroundings, communicated itself to the bystanders. The effectiveness of the Union batteries is proverbal. The rebels have a holy horror of them. While advancing on Resaca, Sweeney's division was on the right and in reserve, Capt. Avndt's Michigan battery was wheeled into position. "Do you see that house?" said the captain, addressing one of his gunners, and pointing to a build-

"I do, captain," was the response.
"Can you hit it?"

The piece was leveled, the lanyard drawn, and the chimney of the house fell with a crash. Any of Sherman's batteries could have done the

The following is an account of the number of books, chapters, words and letters contained in the Old and New Testaments: OLD TESTAMENT.
